Dr. Judith Farley, Francis Blaum marry

In a ceremony conducted in the office of the Mayor at historic City Hall in Carbondale, Judith A. Farley, M.D., and Francis A. Blaum, of Kingston, were united in marriage by Honorable Fred Mancuso, Mayor of Carbondale. The bride is the daughter of Ms. Joanne Farley, of Fallbrook Street, and Thomas Farley, Terrace Street. The groom is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Francis Blaum of Mountaintop.

The bride wore an original ankle-length bridal gown in a lily-of-the-valley silk embroidered organza over a white satin slip bodice lining. White satin banded the natural neckline and the edges of the cape sleeves. A pink satin band encircled the natural waistline, accented with pink satin rosebuds and green velvet leaves. White satin buttons secured the back from the neckline to the waist. The hemline was of scalloped embroidery. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Jean Ranck, Vestal, New York, whose outfit consisted of a lavender street-length dress of silk, with a side slit. Its sheer neckline was delicately adorned with tiny pearls, offset by tucked sleeves, bloused to the elbow and then tapered at the waist with a matching belt.

Terry Blaum, Honesdale, brother of the bridegroom served as best man.

Dr. Farley is a graduate of St. Rose High School, Wilkes College, and Hahnemann Medical College in 1980, where she served her internship in internal medicines. She is currently a first-year resident in anaesthesia at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia.

Mr. Blaum is a graduate of Kings College and received his M.B.A. degree from Fairleigh-Dickinson University. He is currently a sales representative for the Burroughs-Wellcome Company.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother hosted a champagne breakfast at the Ben-Mar Restaurant in Carbondale, and in the evening a wedding dinner was attended by relatives and friendsof the bride and groom.

On their return from a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast of Florida, the couple will reside in Secane.